and exhaustive lecture on the black bear lived in one of our neighboring forests. He made me realize the vastness of the animal, which has been so much misapprehended. I was glad to state that my information is limited, and I shall take no more on the northern wilds, and relegate him with a revolver. The impression I brought away from was a knowledge of the fact training is necessary to make a hunter an insight into the habits of animals. He is much more likely to be killed with misaimed shot than of which I feel proud as a hunter. I intend now to take my information and have a couple of handamps for sale, possession of which are satisfaction and content this time.

With all this information annexed, he withdrew and fifty dollars.

ORATORIO OF RUTH.

Mr. Canfield's Choral Union Scores & the Choral Union.

Presentation of a Bibles and Easy Chair to the Choral Union.

The oratorio of Ruth, which has been in course of preparation by the Choral Union under the direction of Mr. H. Canfield, was produced in the school room of the Bridge Street Church, on Monday evening, March 22nd.

Though there was a light rain falling at the hour of commencement, the Union were encouraged in their efforts by a large audience.

Before the performance was opened the officers of the Union gathered around Mr. Canfield, when Mr. Frank Lewis, Secretary, read an address, and Mrs. W. E. Hutton presented an ebony luteon with silver mounting and a luxurious easy chair.

The luteon bore the following inscription:

Presented to H. Canfield, as a token of respect by the members of the Choral Union.

Mr. Canfield replied in fitting terms, expressing his gratitude, and the hope that the cordial relations now existing between himself and the members of the choir might long continue.

The entertainment which followed accorded cordial treatment and delighted the large audience. The frequent applause indicated the satisfaction it gave.

The solo, duet, trios, quartets and choruses were arranged in pleasing manner by the conductor, affording a variety that is interesting and delightful. Those named on the programme are Miss Laura Wesley, Mrs. Ingram, Miss Ida Richardson, Miss Edith Canfield, Miss May Clark, Mrs. T. S. Clark, Miss May Duggan, Mr. Chas. McCullough, Mr. A. Wesley, Mr. F. G. Lewis, Mr. Canfield, Mr. T. S. Clark, Mr. S. Burrows and Mr. F. M. Millburn. All took part, and the music was well rendered.

Miss Duggan and Miss Ida Richardson seemed particularly to please. They sang with rare sweetness and pathos.

Mr. Canfield first came before the public of Belleville in December, 1885, when he produced the cantata, Queen Esther, under the auspices of the Oddfellows' hall. He was placed with Belleville and Belleville seemed pleased with him, as was shown by the testimonial presented last night.

Lessons from a Forgery Case.

What Mr. Justice Ross Thinks of the Treating Habit.

In charging the jury yesterday, in the Hamilton Scott forgery case, Mr. Justice Ross said the evidence of Taylor, the hotel keeper, showed a deplorable state of affairs. He learned the prisoner was a man of money from time to time, but he was in a drunk state, knowing that it would come to him over the bar. He taught a most potent lesson on temperance, he said, and showed the necessity of legislation that would do away with bars, which would put a stop to the iniquitous custom of treating.

The circumstances of the case should be considered by the License Commissioners at their coming meeting.

The latest and best goods in Ladies' Bangs, Waves, Wig, long Basket Hair, Switches, and new styles in front pieces of all kinds. Remember March 26th and 28th, Queen's Hotel.

Front Street.

A number of business men were complaining day of the condition Front Street was left in by the street car company clearing the ice from the track. The ice in some places is six or eight inches thick. The narrow gutters that the company's men have out to get at the rails of the track make wheeling difficult, and so dangerous.

City authorities should have prevented the work, but the Soldiers' Guard, the Street Railway proprietors that they are responsible for the consequences.

Annual Services.

The annual missionary anniversary of Bridge St. Church is to take place on Sunday next. The Rev. John E. Starr, of Toronto, one of the most gifted of the younger ministers of the Methodist Church, is to preach in the morning and to address the missionary meeting in the afternoon and evening, and the Rev. Browning, who for many years was a missionary in British Columbia, is also to address the meetings.

Prisoner Discharged.

Ja. Saunders, of Marquette, was put on trial at the Assizes yesterday, charged with having criminal knowledge of Sarah Westerville, a girl between 10 and 12 years of age, Katherine Lavie and the girl were the first witnesses called by the Crown. The testimony was so conflicting that the Judge dismissed the jury and ordered the release of the prisoner.

Entertainment at Loretto.

If anything was necessary to still further improve us with the usefulness and exclusiveness of the training imparted at the Loretto Convent of the Sisters, the select character of the entertainment given last evening, at which we had the pleasure of assisting, would more than confirm us in our good opinion. The concert was the thirty-third anniversary of the Right Rev. Mr. Farrelly's elevation to the priesthood. As may well be imagined, the Rev. gentleman bore a friend of superior education, and in fact, to be a master of daily conversation, and the ladies in charge, mindful of paternal solicitude, never lost an opportunity of testifying their deep gratitude and affectionate regard. A well-selected programme was, therefore, prepared and carried out last night with unqualified success.

Owing to lack of proper accommodation, only a few could find admittance, among those present being the Right Rev. Mr. Farrelly, Alex. Robertson, Esq., M. P., Rev. Father O'Gorman and Prof. Denys.

It would take more space than we can conveniently dispose of to particularize, but we must express our appreciation of the (to us) novel and certainly original idea of having the concert, as well as the different cantatas, interspersed. The instruction of a young lady habited in a costume typical of the special season or country. The representation of the former took the form of a tableau.

In representing the latter, a song special to the particular nation would herald the entrance of the young dame into the hall, and we were thus treated to a variety of time-honoured melodies as well as by the very appropriate cantatas and vocal acting. The instruction of the young ladies was rendered in a way to reflect both on the system pursued in the establishment and the natural talent of the young performers. It is indeed pleasing, after having yourself from active duty to be borne away on the soothing strains of music sweet, the eye, the while, feasting upon unassuming loveliness and the stern reality of life for the time forgot.

Among the young ladies who figured more prominently were the Misses Robertson, Dolan, Mackie, Corby, Bruntell, Coleman, Dwyer, O'Brien, Dickson, Stanton, Merman, Mullins, Devlin, Davis, Frost and Bolger.

A particular feature of the entertainment, was a violin solo executed with commendable ease by Miss M. Mackie who also played the various accompaniments to more than ordinary taste, forcing the audience at the last with a rendition of Home Sweet Home in a storm, which latter required considerable execution. To Miss Mullins and Miss Edith Stanton was entrusted the rendering of the vocal solos, and they acquitted themselves in a manner to amply justify their being chosen. These two young ladies are always favorites. In the course of the evening an address, treating in happy metaphor of the respect, gratitude and affection of the pupils of the convent to the Right Rev. Mr. Farrelly, was very pleasingly read by Miss Minnie Dwyer, the president of the new Literary Association formed in connection with the convent. This address was a little gem in itself, and we believe the production of Miss Dwyer.

Before the national anthem struck up, Mr. Farrelly rose to address the children. After a few home made, he proceeded to express his satisfaction with the excellence of the entertainment just witnessed. He could not speak too highly of the help of the good ladies. He had only one approach to address, and that was his being made eight or ten days older than he really was. He concluded by calling on Alex. Robertson for a few remarks. The gentleman made a neat little speech in which full justice was done to the real and success of the ladies of Loretto as instructresses of the young. He also complimented the gentlemen scholars on their personal merit, wished them good prosperity and resumed his seat amid warm and hearty applause. A Rev. F. O'Gorman followed. A favorite with everyone, always happy in his remarks, he has no difficulty in securing attention and approval. Prof. Denys was also asked to say a few words, which he observed as he rose, would "constitute the speech of the evening." A couple by special request was kindly granted by the Rev. Mother, and after a few personal exchanges of courtesies, bade all adieu.

Near the End.

Dennis Cowan, who has been in custody most of the time since October 1885 awaiting trial, first for arson, then for maliciously wounding cattle, is leaving the goal of his captivity. His wife was present in the court room.

It will be remembered that Chas. Bennett was partially moved from a farm he had been occupying to the farm held by Denis Cowan's mother and adjoining the farm tenanted by Cowan. Cowan was opposed to Bennett moving on the place, as he thought it was his by right. He was present for occupying it through some misunderstanding with his mother. The latter after Bennett commenced to move, his barn was burned, two cattle wounded, and a green placed on the grass of the pasture. The ground was soft and Chief McNamara, the brother of Alfred Wylie, 1610 Fourth Avenue south, on Thursday evening. The wedding was private, only relatives and a few friends were present. They were remembered for kindly their friends, as they were the recipients of many very fine presents. Rev. F. T. Gato performed the ceremony. The Mr. DeMille mentioned in the above clipping is a son of Mr. D. N. DeMille of this city.

The wedding was private, only relatives and a few friends were present. They were remembered for kindly their friends, as they were the recipients of many very fine presents. Rev. F. T. ## A STARKLING HUMOR.

Of a Front Street Business Man's Folly and Fate.

A Wily Widow was the subject of a True Wife and her Fate.

Business men generally, those of the north end of Front Street particularly, are startled by and busily engaged discussing a rumor of scandal that has recently spread out. Those who have known the man by his business transactions are slow to believe the reports that are so generally current.

The rumor has it that Thos. Warhugh, a second hand dealer, who has carried on an extensive business in Belleville for some years, has hit for parts unknown with Mrs. Ough, a grand widow of considerable fortune to the north end of the city.

Mrs. Warhugh, a woman esteemed for her virtuous qualities by her neighbors, has stated to her friends that she fears her husband has converted the most of his property into cash, and deserted her and two children, the eldest 10 years of age. She has known of her husband's intimacy with the woman referred to for the past month, and her relatives consequently have not been over harmonious since that time. Mrs. Warhugh says that her husband went west on Monday evening and that the woman in the next day morning train in the same direction. Further than that she knows nothing. She has no idea of the condition of his business.

A brother of the missing man says he has only gone to Toronto on business, and that the rumors which are out are without foundation.

The business men who have had dealings with Warhugh say he has always been perfectly honest and above board in his dealing, and are surprised at the reports that are out, which, it is to be hoped, are without foundation.

Overhead Wires on Streets.

A meeting of the citizens of Buffalo took place last Saturday to consider the course necessary to be taken to have the dangerous wires removed from their streets, at which resolutions were carried demanding "that all wires and cables now above ground shall be immediately buried, and also that the Mayor and common council shall at once take steps as shall cause the above demand to be complied with." The resolutions were in the substance of the last, and were carried in that city, at which the saving of life and property was greatly interfered with by the overhead wires and cables.

Ladies, be on Hand at Queen's Hotel.

Prof. Dorenwend is leaving on a business tour to other parts of the Dominion, with his well-assorted styles of hair goods, but before doing so he will visit Belleville once more; will be therefore at Queen's Hotel Saturday and Monday, March 26 and 28. All the hair, wigs, long Basket Hair, and gentlemen note this, and call at his show room. His stock of every style is more than complete.

RAILWAY DISASTERS.

A FREIGHT TRAIN DROVE THROUGH A BRIDGE—NINE MEN KILLED AND SEVERAL WOUNDED—FATAL COLLISION IN MAYNARD.

RICHMOND, Va., March 24. This morning a freight train went through the bridge over the North and Western railway. The bridge was in process of repair, and eight or nine workmen were killed and several others wounded. None of them were taken to hospital, as they were known to be dead. The engine and several cars crossed the bridge safely before the structure gave way.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the 1st of March, 1890, I, as a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete. — W. E.

Building Operations.

What the Spring Opening Promises to Be.

Building operations in Belleville during the coming season promise to be very active. Last year builders were busy the most of the season. Most of the buildings erected were substantial, ornamental and costly. This year's program promises to be even more extensive than last. The number who have had plans prepared and have made other preparations are unusually large for this season of the year.

Mr. Geo. E. Stacey has purchased the late Mr. Burdett's old residence, George St., and will make extensive improvements. A neat building for Sunday school rooms in connection with St. Thomas' church is to be erected on Church St. at the end of Campbell street. Mr. Geo. A. Brown has the foundation laid for a factory between Sierich's bakery and Cooper's mill, upon which he will build this spring. Mr. Asahel Vermylen is getting material on the ground for a double house north of Church St. Mr. John Forin will erect a business block on Front street where the ruins of the old hotel stand. Mr. Samuel Kyle will erect a brick hotel on the site of the old building, at a cost of $10,000. Mr. Jas. St. Charles has purchased the old Coleman house, on corner by the upper bridge, and is remodeling the house, at a cost of several thousands. The building is being given a modern, artistic outside finish. Mr. Thos. Coleman is preparing to put up a double dwelling on Coleman street. Mr. W. V. W. dence on the corner of Market and Catherine streets. Mr. Jas. Wickham, will put up a double dwelling in the same locality. Mr. Wm. Painter will build a residence on Ontario street. Mr. Wm. Duff will put up a double house on Coleman street. Ad Porter will make additions to his residence. Michael Mullins will finish his building at the corner of What and Church streets. Mr. Cooper, the grocer, will complete his new building on Front street. Mr. J. H. Bell will build a residence valued on Bowell street. If there are others who intend to build this season we will be pleased to make a note of the same as soon as informed.

Spring Opening.

Munro & Co. had their spring opening yesterday. The new stock, under the name of the house, was attractive and showed the goods to the best advantage. A feature that was quite noticeable was that the ladies and gentlemen were trimmed neatly and elegantly, ready for wear. They were not overladen with trimmings, but good taste by their quiet elegance and tasteful simplicity. The leading shapes are known as the Folson, Dren, Norma and Dagmar. The shapes are of fancy braided straw, of a color to blend with the trimmings. The hair is arranged in a variety of styles, including aigrette, quince and lace. Altogether the show room is a model of neatness.

Attempted Rape.

A Young Man Wanted, in Colborne to Answer the Charge—Arrested at Belleville.

A message was received from Colborne yesterday directing the police to arrest Geo. Harty, a young man of that village, on a charge of attempting rape on one Emma Huff, a domestic in the Brunswick House. Chief Newton arrested him last night. Constable John Reeves came to the city to-day and took the prisoner, went with him to the mixed at noon. From the constable it was learned that Miss Huff spent the evening at Harty's house, which is between the depot and the village. The prisoner set out to accompany her to the hotel and on the way, he attempted to force his way into her room. The girl was possessed of unusual physical strength and was able to defend herself. This is the second case of the kind that the girl has figured in.

Market Committee.

The Market Committee met last night and passed the Rathbun Company's account for $120.20 and the balance of Harris & Walton's account for repairs on the market, $160. The committee passed the City Hall at the temporary disposal of the Police Magistrate for holding police court, because of the untenable condition of the police court room.

Public Works.

The vital statistics for the month of March according to registrations made with the City Clerk are: Births 19, marriages 0, deaths 12. From the absence of marriages it would appear that Cupid was either keeping Lent or that his darts had lost their power.

The Boys are Marching.

His agent, Mr. Bondick, was in Belleville yesterday, arranged for his appearance at the Henderson House billiard parlor on Saturday evening. From newspaper clippings shown by his agent to-day, it was seen that he has a run to his credit of 2,000 points or more, the highest on record. His last match record, in which he broke the world's record, was 1,641.

Our Own Jimmy.

The Hamilton Spectator has the following: "A New Zealand subscriber writes to the Spectator, enclosing a hunk of poetry by a person named William Gay, of Australia, and asking if the author is the Spectator's 'poet Gay.' I doubt he is not. The Spectator's poet is James 'Gay'—familiarly called Jimmy. He resided at Glenora, Canada, where he has just celebrated his seventy-seventh birthday by playing a flute solo in the street and writing a couple of reams of the champion poetry in the world."

Case Dismissed.

Yesterday John Elanor had Cora Ainsworth in the Police Court to answer to a charge of larceny; the latter having stolen a watch from William Gay, of Australia, and asking if the author is the Spectator's 'poet Gay.' I doubt he is not. The Spectator's poet is James 'Gay'—familiarly called Jimmy. He resided at Glenora, Canada, where he has just celebrated his seventy-seventh birthday by playing a flute solo in the street and writing a couple of reams of the champion poetry in the world."

OTTAWA, March 30.—Referring yesterday to the charges of bad treatment which have been made in connection with his Queen's County estates, Lord Lansdowne said that "the rays of the sun" which have been taken place, as far as he was aware, only once. Kildare, has been aware, although if the tenants adhere to the plan of campaign, he refuses to pay their rents due last November, other conditions must be a double floor. Kildare, who has been proceeded against, has been offered 20 per cent. reduction. Regarding the report that his Excellency had offered to stop the eviction of tenants who will pay any portion of their rent without costs, and would allow those who accept these terms ample time to pay the balance, as called to-day from London, Lord Lansdowne said that no recent instructions had been issued. The agent, however, had been instructed to deal leniently in the matter of legal costs with any tenant showing a desire to meet their liabilities. A New Weekly Paper and its Contributors.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The Tribune's London special says: "Lord Hartington appears to-day as a contributor to the first number of a Liberal-Unionist weekly, founded to advocate the policy of the Unionist wing of the Liberal party. Perhaps the most interesting passage in Lord Hartington's article is the declaration that there is not a single Liberal-Unionist who believes in secession as a policy, but all are loyal to the Unionist party. Lord Hartington has an article in the same journal sternly hostile to the secessionist Unionist Union. He declares that the whole responsibility for Liberal disunion rests with those who propose the Liberal programme to the programme of the Chicago Convention. Mr. Cairne, who is the cautious manager, cries out for open war against the disunionist Unionist party of secession and obstruction has been reduced to impotence. This founding of a Liberal-Unionist organ is but one item in the programme, which Mr. Chamberlain indicated lately in Birmingham."

Grit Corruption in Quebec.

(Peterborough Review.)

A strange and discreditable scene has taken place in the Legislative Council of Quebec. Mr. Savage, an old and infirm gentleman who till very recently has been Counselor for the Gaspe division, entered the Chamber and insisted upon taking his seat. It was called upon by an old member of the Chamber. He continued to claim his seat on the ground that he was still Counselor, his resignation having been withdrawn on the instructions of the province that he should be made Sheriff of Gaspe. He would not yield and leave the Chamber till the sergeant-at-arms and the usher of the black rod intervened to compel him.
